EXTRA SESSION FACES HOOVER AT EARLY DATE

President-Elect May Cut
Short Scheduled Tour
Of Caribbean

CONFERS WITH MANY OF PARTY LEADERS

Farm Relief and Tariff
Are Measures Of Importance

Washington, Jan. 8.—Confronted by an apparently inevitable extra session of congress in early spring, President-elect Hoover faced the necessity today of sharply curtailing his projected Caribbean tour next month.

As he resumed his conferences with congressional leaders at his hotel headquarters today, Hoover's chief interest centered upon a date for the assembling of the new congress. Assured that the congestion in the present session precludes all possibility of comprehensive agricultural legislation before March 14, the president-elect is reconciled to the task of accommodating his own pre-inaugural program to the added preparatory work involved in the special session. To this end he likely will be compelled to reduce the proposed Caribbean tour to a mere week-end visit to Havana. His tentative program contemplated stops in Santo Domingo, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Remains Silent

Although Hoover has remained silent since his return to Washington Sunday, his conferences with house and senate leaders have substantiated reports that farm-relief and tariff revision will be linked in the special session. Should this program be approved by Hoover, the new administration would be set off to the tune of one of the most important sessions since the Harding post-war congress of 1921. Here, for the first time since the war, the clash of the "protected east—with its cry for high tariff barriers—and the agricultural west—with its demand for economic equality—would be decided or compromised in a legislative arena unencumbered by the myriad sub-plots of the usual regular session.

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, one of the principal advocates of the special session since his pre-election conference with Hoover here, in which he urged the project (Continued on Page 4)

VETERAN KNOWN HERE, IS DEAD

John Stamp, Brother Of Salem Man, Dies In Alliance

John H. Stamp, 69, retired merchant died at 4 p. m. Monday at his home, 48 East State st., Alliance, after a 10-day illness of bronchial pneumonia.

Mr. Stamp, who had lived in Alliance for 48 years, was born in Franklin Square. He was a member of the Union Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and served as a member of the official board until 1923. He was past commander of John C. Fremont post, Grand Army of the Republic.

After attending school in Franklin Square, Mr. Stamp entered Mount Union college in 1897 for one term.

On Aug. 22, 1892 he joined Company A, 125 Regiment O. V. I. under Colonel Emerson Opdyke. Members of this regiment were later known as the "Opdyke Tigers." In the spring of 1894 he was transferred to the voluntary reserve infantry on account of illness. He was offered discharge but refused and served until the close of the war in 1895. He was made sergeant major and acting adjutant. During the war he was at Fort Donaldson, Franklin, Tenn., Spring Hill, Nashville and Appomattox.

Enters College

Mr. Stamp again entered Mount Union college in the fall of 1895. On Aug. 18, 1898 he was united in marriage with Miss Samantha A. Bosert of Washingtonville.

Mr. Stamp at one time conducted a drug store at Washingtonville and later owned a flour mill at Beilitt. In 1899 he moved to Mount Union where he managed a hotel and a flour mill for several years. Until his retirement he was engaged in mercantile business in Alliance.

Surviving are four sons, Dr. J. Harley Stamp, of Cincinnati, Joseph L. of Hollywood, Cal., and Dr. Floyd R. and Virgil B. both of Alliance; one brother, Levi Stamp, 94, of Salem; and three grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the home, 48 East State st., in charge of Rev. H. K. Hillberry, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church. He will be assisted by Rev. W. C. McCullum, pastor of the First Christian church of Alliance and the John C. Fremont post of the Grand Army. Burial will be in Mount Union cemetery. Friends may call at the home from 7 until 9 p. m. Wednesday.

Hotel Fire Claims Lives of Two People

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 8.—Two persons, a young bride and groom, were known to have perished in a fire which destroyed the Orpheum hotel annex here today. Other bodies may be found in the ruins.

Three hours after the fire was discovered, and firemen had gained control, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walker, both aged 22, were found in their room on the third floor.

A score of thrilling rescues were effected by firemen before the blaze was brought under control.

WITCHCRAFT IS TOPIC DURING MURDER TRIAL

Black Magic As Motive
Will Not Keep Out
Of Hearing

ATTEMPT TO GET
HAIR LOCK CAUSE

Crime Was Committed In Dead of Night To
"Break Spell"

Court House, York, Pa., Jan. 8.—"We'll get a lock of the old man's hair. That will break his bad luck spell."

Those were the words of John Blymeyer, admitted "pow-wow" doctor as he and two others started for the home of Nelson D. Rehmyer, 60-year-old farmer recluse and practitioner of the black art, on the night of November 27, last when Rehmyer was beaten and burned to death. It was testified today by Clayton G. Hess, a 25-year-old lumber company foreman Hess is a star witness in the trial of Blymeyer for first degree murder.

Blymeyer later admitted he "got the witch." Hess said. Two others accompanied Blymeyer to the "murder farm." They were Wilbert Hess, 18-year-old brother of the witness, and John Curry, 14.

York, Pa., Jan. 8.—Witchcraft and black magic as a murder motive will not down at the trial of the mysterious John M. Blymeyer, alleged "pow-wow doctor," for the slaying of Nelson D. Rehmyer, whom he believed to be a "witch" in spite of efforts to soft pedal that phase of the case.

Today Blymeyer sat in court, a strange mystic figure branded by testimony as the man who said after the killing of Rehmyer, "I got the witch—I'm the one to blame." He sat in the prisoners dock, a tall lean, blonde man of 32, with a pale face, a peaked, inquiring nose and a secretive demeanor, alertly watching every move in the court room.

He is charged with having gone to the old farmer's home in the dead of night, accompanied by Wilbert Hess, 18, and John Curry, 15, and bludgeoned him to death when he resisted an attempt to cut a lock from his hair. Blymeyer wanted the lock of hair to "break an evil spell cast by the witch."

LENCEL DELAYED IN OFFICE FIGHT

Canton Appeals Case; Will Be Heard In Mansfield
At Early Date

Canton, Jan. 8.—Satanus A. Lencel's appeal for reinstatement as police chief here will be considered in court again, Jan. 29, it was announced today.

Lencel was removed from office and convicted of complicity in the Don Mellett murder. The conviction was reversed after the ex-chief had started serving a life term in the Ohio penitentiary.

The plea for reinstatement was granted by Judge William P. Stephenson, of Adams county, and a journal entry of his decision was received by mail yesterday.

Counsel for the city, fighting Lencel's plea, immediately carried the case to the court of appeals at Mansfield. The appellate court ordered a stay of execution on the reinstatement and announced that a visiting court of three judges would sit here Jan. 29 to hear the case on its merits.

Lencel has announced that if reinstated he will occupy office for only a few minutes in order to claim several thousand dollars in back salary and a pension.

Question Mark Glides To Earth With Record Giant Craft Makes History In Longest Flight Known

Upper—The Army plane Question Mark which has established a new record for sustained flight. Lower—the crew of the Question Mark. Left to right—Major Spatz, Capt. Eaker, Lieut. Halverson, Lieut. Quesada and Sgt. Hooe.

Los Angeles, Jan. 8.—Aviation enthusiasts were speculating today on just what official records would be allowed the army plane Question Mark following her epic endurance test which terminated last yesterday after more than 150 hours of continuous flying.

The giant brown and gold plane was forced to give up the monotonous grind of nearly seven days after one of her three motors went "cold" and another began to sputter. It glided to a safe landing, touching Metropolitan Air Field at 2:07 p. m., after being in the air 150 hours, 40 min. and 15 sec.

The crew of five men smiled triumphantly. They appeared to be in good physical condition, though tired and half deaf from the roar of the motors.

Although the Question Mark unofficially has wiped every endurance mark for all type of aircraft from the skies, it was pointed out that the record flight of 65 hours and 25 minutes, established by two Germans without refueling, probably would stand unimpaired in the official records.

The Question Mark remained aloft more than twice as long, but did so by refueling in the air. The former refueling record of 60 hours and seven minutes, held by two Belgians of course yielded to the sensational feat of the army plane.

The Question Mark rolled up the stupendous estimated total of 10,550 miles in her famous six-and-a-half-day cruise. Only part of the mileage, however, will be taken into official consideration, since the great army plane was forced to fly in circles for long periods instead of traveling from point to point in straight flights.

The five authors of the latest chapter of aviation pioneering are Maj. Carl Spatz, commander; Capt. Ira C. Eaker, chief pilot; Lieut. Harry A. Halverson and Eldwood R. Quesada and Sgt. Roy Hooe.

Fleeing Son Defeats Father In Auto Race; Cupid Loses

Columbus, O., Jan. 8.—Though outdistancing his pursuers in an automobile race from Springfield, Mass., to this city, Dan Cupid today had lost in the grueling marathon as the marriage of Curtis French, 20, Springfield, Mass., to Miss Elizabeth Colgan, society girl here, was halted when they reached this city.

W. E. French, prominent Springfield man and father of the reported runaway youth, had objected to the marriage specifying that his son complete a college course before taking on matrimony.

French's objection was not the only one raised. His son also objected—to waiting. After a reported argument with his father, the youth and Miss Colgan started here in an auto. The father followed, but the two people dodging Albany and Syracuse police, who had been notified of the "runaway," outdistanced the elder man.

In Albany, the parent gave up the race and returned to Springfield. When the couple reached here they went to the home of the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Colgan.

Here they were persuaded to obey the mandate set down by French's father. Colgan sent a telegram to the elder French, and French is reported speeding to this city today with his reported parental anger somewhat subdued.

BUDGET NOT TO FACE COUNCIL

Street Action Likely Will Occupy Solons In
First '29 Meet

Salem city council will hold its first meeting of the year tonight. Final action on the renumbering and renaming city streets is the only business left over from 1928 scheduled for appearance before the body tonight. Presentation of the ordinance for passage by council will probably be made, all previous legislation on the project having been passed.

Due to the failure of City Auditor Helen Worthier to receive the annual estimate of money the city will receive for its 1929 budget from the county, no action will be taken on this item in tonight's session it was announced today.

Lancaster Merchant
Commits Suicide

Lancaster, O., Jan. 8.—William H. Petty, 66, prominent shoe dealer, committed suicide sometime during the night by hanging himself with a clothesline to a rafter in the basement of his home here. Ill health and despondency over financial difficulties were advanced as the reasons for the act. His widow, of Lancaster, and two sons, D. F. and Merle Petty, Pittsburgh, survive.

HOUSE SMASHES ALL PRECEDENTS FOR BILL SPEED

Eleven Measures Thrown Into Hopper On First Day

PENCE ACT DRAWS
LEGISLATIVE FIRE

No Bills Are Offered In Senate During First Day Session

Columbus, Jan. 8.—Repeal of a portion of the Pence act regulating public utilities, reduction of the state gasoline tax to two cents per gallon, creation of a state highway police force, and a reduction of freight rates on Ohio-mined coal are sought in bills pending in the Ohio house of representatives today.

Other measures pending on the house calendar for second reading provide for the erection on the statehouse campus of a memorial to Ohio veterans of the World war, life imprisonment of persons convicted for the fourth time of certain felonies and revision of the state corporation code.

The house smashed all legislative precedents of the Buckeye state when 11 bills were thrown into the hopper on the first day of the session. The bills were introduced late yesterday. No bills were offered in the senate.

Rep. C. R. Summers, Oberlin, introduced the bill which seeks to amend the Pence act by eliminating that section which authorizes public utilities to file a bond with the state utilities commission and immediately proceed to collect increased rates prior to final decision by the commission on the question of approving or rejecting the new rates. Sen. George H. Bender, Cleveland, announced his intention of introducing a bill today providing for the repeal of the entire Pence act.

Rep. Clarence J. Mardis, Athens, offered the bill designed to amend discrimination against Ohio coal (Continued on Page 4)

Arrow Gasoline Stations
Taken Over By Big Company

Announcement was made today by V. L. Battin, formerly manager of the Arrow Gasoline corporation in Salem, of the purchase of Arrow gasoline and oil business in this city by the Pennzon company.

Battin will continue as branch manager of the new company, which now operates four stations in Salem. O. D. Sipe is office manager, and J. C. Canfield supervisor of filling stations. John Brown, W. J. Wiggers, Al Wiggers, and Amos Entriken have been appointed managers of stations.

Since 1925, when the company was organized with one station, it has grown to four stations in Salem, and several in surrounding cities and towns.

Legion Will Open Winter Term Of School Wednesday

The winter term of the American Legion Americanization school will open at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the legion home, McKinley ave.

This school will be in session on Wednesday and Thursday evenings each week until spring.

Citizenship, reading and writing of the English language and arithmetic both for beginners and advanced students are the subjects taught.

Atty. Joel Sharp will be in charge of the advanced class. Others on the teaching corps are Messrs. Margaret Lipp and Thelma Justice.

Much interest has been manifested in this school by foreign born residents, for whom it is held, evidenced by the fact that for the fall term there were 35 students enrolled and an average attendance of 28 and 29.

W. W. Andrews is chairman of the American Legion Citizenship committee.

Chairman Requests Return of Stamps

The Christmas seal sale, for the benefit of tuberculosis eradication, sponsored in this county by the Columbiana County Public health league, has closed, and according to George L. Lafferty, secretary-treasurer, some people to whom seals were sent have failed to return them or to remit for them.

Mr. Lafferty stated: "We hope that all those who received seals will use the stamped and addressed envelope which was sent with the seals to let us know just how they feel about the matter."

DONAHEY SENDS FINAL MESSAGE TO LEGISLATURE

"Blue Sky" Laws Mentioned
In Address; Pence
Act Assailed

INDUSTRIAL BRANCH IS ALSO MENTIONED

Asks Full Maintenance
Of Governor's Home
In Columbus

Columbus, Jan. 8.—Recommending amendment of the Pence act, which provides for state regulation of public utilities, and warning the solons to consider carefully all proposals to amend Ohio's "blue-sky" laws, Gov. Vic Donahey today sent his final message to the state legislature.

Donahey also urged the legislators to make "proper provision for a larger personnel and more suitable quarters" for the state department of industrial relations.

Enactment of legislation relieving the governor of a considerable portion of the work of disposing of applications for parole of prisoners was recommended. He favored passage of a law authorizing parole of liquor law violators from county workhouses by local authorities. Donahey requested enactment of a measure penalizing any attorney, lobbyist or other person who solicits or collects fees.

Attention of the solons should, also, be directed to the enactment of legislation insuring greater safety on the highways, Donahey declared.

Other recommendations contained in the governor's message are: Provide full maintenance for the governor's mansion; arrange for fitting participation by the state of Ohio in the sesqui-centennial anniversary of the conquest of the northwest territory, scheduled to take place next summer at Vincennes, Ind.; improve conditions at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home, Xenia.

Governor Donahey explained he had drawn the attention of the solons to these subjects "with a view to increased efficiency of the state government, the promotion of the public welfare and for the sake of facilitating the task of succeeding chief executives."

The governor informed the legis-

Bandit Loots Bank Of $7,000 In Cash

Blissfield, Mich., Jan. 8.—Harold Moore, 26, teller of the First National bank here, surprised by a lone bandit when he opened the bank, was forced at pistol point today to sit on a high bookkeeper's bench bending over a ledger as though at work for 15 minutes until the time lock on the bank's vault opened.

The bandit then made his getaway with between $7,000 and $10,000 but overlooked thousands more in his haste to escape. He left Moore, bound and gagged, on the floor of a small room adjoining the cashier's cage.

It is believed the daring robber secreted himself in the bank overnight.

THREE INJURED FIGHTING BLAZE AT EARLY HOUR

Wellsville Mayor Breaks

Fire Fighters

LOSS IS PLACED AT
NEAR $150,000 MARK

Departments of 2 Cities
Battle Blaze For Three Hours

East Liverpool, O., Jan. 8.—Six persons were injured, two factories, two houses and a warehouse were destroyed, and estimated damage of over $150,000 was done, when fire, fanned by a brisk wind, swept the St. Clair avenue business zone here early today.

Among the injured were Mayor W. L. Fogo, of Wellsville, Fire Chief Thomas Brown of the Wellsville fire department, and three firemen, Mrs. Rita Kennedy, forced to flee from an apartment, collapsed from a heart attack.

Mayor Fogo, who was assisting Wellsville, Chester W. Va. and East Liverpool firemen, fractured his right leg in a fall on the icy sidewalk. Firemen Oscar Powers and Orlando Cunningham were injured in falls. One other fireman was overcome by smoke, while Chief Brown was cut about the head in a fall.

The Buckeye Lumber and Building company's two-story frame plant, where the blaze started, the Smith hardware three-story warehouse, the Ervin Machine company's one-story frame shop, and two houses were burned to the ground.

Smoke was seen emerging from the lumber company plant shortly before midnight, but before fire departments could be called the conflagration had gathered headway. It burned for more than three hours, and threatened several other nearby buildings before it was brought under control.

The fire is believed to have originated from the second floor of the lumber company, in the planing mill. A large stove used to heat the mill is reported to have become overheated, catching nearby wood afire.

FIRE BAFFLES MINE EXPERTS

Callahan Workings Sealed
As Fighters Are Forced From Battle

Unable to penetrate heavy formations of smoke and gas, resulting from the cave-in of the air course of the Homer Callahan Mining company mine, five miles north of Salem, where fire for the sixth consecutive day ravaged the mine, state mining inspectors, following a conference again sealed the mine.

The cave-in of the shaft's ventilating course occurred about 10 p. m. Sunday, after first progress in battling the flames had been forced to flee due to dangers of poisonous gases and possible explosion.

Attempts made yesterday to re-open the battle were of no avail.

The fire started last Wednesday morning and was discovered by miners reporting for work that day. State Inspector Thomas A. Reese, of Salem, and Captain George Lewis of the Salem fire department were called, and attempts were made all Wednesday to check the blaze with slight results, and the shaft was sealed Thursday. It was reopened Sunday and efforts renewed, but the cave-in of the air course forced abandonment of all attempts to extinguish the fire which is said to be one of the worst ever occurring in northeastern Ohio.

Portsmouth School
Destroyed by Blaze

Portsmouth, Jan. 8.—With a loss of $150,000, the Union Street school was completely destroyed by fire early today.

An overheated furnace is supposed to have caused the blaze. The local school building was an historic one, having been erected 30 years ago.

Due to frozen fire plugs, the flames had gained considerable headway before water could be directed at them.

More than 500 school children will be compelled to attend classes elsewhere as a result of the early-morning fire.

THE DREAM OF CHICAGO

Pictures in the rotogravure section of the big city papers presenting the new LaSalle Street bridge in panoramic view at the dedication exercises December 20, at which time the $2,500,000 span connecting Wacker drive with the north bank of her river was thrown open to traffic, offer added testimony to the fact that Chicago has a high appreciation of the artistic. No matter what the shortcomings of the big city on Lake Michigan may be in many respects, it may be said of her that she is more progressive in the matter of city beautification than any other great center of population in the land.

Chicago may have her bandits, her bombers and her gunmen; it may be true that she has had more than her share of beer brewers and racketeers; there may have been more civic corruption there in recent years than in any great city in the country; there may have been for years a closer connection between politics and crime than is often met with in any population center, but despite all these handicaps, she has forged steadily ahead. In her pursuit of the beautiful. Her parks and boulevards have become subjects for favorable comment throughout the land. They have elicited the praise of notable visitors from foreign lands. Her breathing spots have become things of beauty, green here and there by tasteful fountains and monuments. Many pieces of her outdoor sculpture are real works of art. Her public and private buildings show advanced ideas in taste. And now she has taken up the beautification of her river and is spanning it with graceful structures of which the new bridge is a striking example, her idea being to replace the ugly structures, as soon as opportunity means permit, with bridges which will conform to the beautification scheme she is following and be a credit to her.

Few rivers coursing through American cities add to their beauty. The American plan in years past has been to pay little attention to their appearance and span them with bridges erected for utility purposes rather than for a combination of the useful and ornamental. Too often bridges over rivers within the limits of our cities have been built merely as means by which to cross the rivers. In respect to city bridges, American cities are far behind many cities of the Old World. The Seine, by way of illustration, is naturally far from a beautiful river, but Paris has successfully striven to make it pre-entable, even pleasing to the eye and has spanned it with bridges which are models for beauty. There is nothing in the way of a structure in the French capital which appeals more to the eye than some of her beautiful bridges, a notable example being the Bridge Alexander III, and the result is that the Seine adds to, rather than detracts from, the general appearance of the city.

Chicago above and beyond all other great American cities has caught the Paris idea of a city beautiful. An element of her citizenship, in the possession of which she is most fortunate, is laboring unceasingly to advance this idea. And unless we miss our guess exceedingly, the time is not far distant when she will be able to realize her dream of being recognized physically at least, as the Paris of America.

What Others Say

Announcement is made that Washington on Jan. 8 is to be the scene of a national conference of protest against the cruiser bill. Like all Gaul, the conference will be divided into three parts. It will open with a forenoon of "general discussion," continue with an afternoon of personal buttonholing of senators and wind up with a banquet in the evening, at which "senators heading the opposition to the cruiser bill" will hold forth.

The "citizens' committee" which is engineering the forthcoming cruiser conference numbers among its members several hundred well known and well intentioned men and women. Church leaders and spokesmen of the feminist movement are conspicuous among them. The roster includes many names which have figured consistently in all the contemporary drives against preparedness measures in congress. There is no reason to challenge the good intent of these opponents of national defense. But there is every reason to question the wisdom of their procedure and the soundness of their political logic.

The group, which is bent upon torpedoing the national and reasonable expansion of the navy recommended by President Coolidge, Secretary Kellogg and Secretary Wilbur, bases its hostility to the cruiser program on the allegation that it "nullifies" the anti-war treaty. In that connection it is worth while pointing out to them, lest in their zeal they overlook it, that the multilateral pact has one broad, underlying implication. That implication is the right of self-defense.

While renouncing war as an instrument of national policy, no signatory power abandons the right to defend itself against aggression. The right of self-defense is worthless without the power to exercise it. Thus viewed, the anti-war treaty and the cruiser bill, far from "nullifying" each other, supplement each other.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the anti-cruiser conference will not adjourn without giving heed to this aspect of its commendable purpose to promote the cause of international peace. The choice presented to the American people, put in the simplest possible terms, is peace by preparedness, or inability to defend themselves because of under-preparedness.—Washington Star.

REAL DANGER LIES IN COMPLICATIONS

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator From New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Nature planned the chest so that the heart and lungs might be protected against accident. Placed deep in this cavity and remote from the outer world, these vital organs are rarely involved in disease and then only by extension from fairly remote parts of the anatomy.

The lungs are suspended within a space surrounded by chest bones, ribs and back-bone. They are covered by a closely fitting tissue, called the "pleura."

This same material lines the inside of the cavity. Between this and the pleura covered lungs is an empty space.

Just enough moisture is provided to permit the lungs, when they are filled with air, to slide over the chest walls without friction. It is an admirable arrangement, allowing deep breathing without consciousness of the inflated air cells.

Unfortunately, we are so situated that we cannot escape upsets in Nature's wise plans. Among other ailments we are liable to have an inflammation of this delicate membrane. Then there is trouble.

The slippery membrane becomes sticky. One membrane, instead of sliding over the other as it should, may become attached to it. Some part of the tissue covering the lungs becomes adherent to the lining of the ribs.

The disease which causes this disturbance in the normal action of the lungs is called "pleurisy." The form I have described is sometimes called "dry pleurisy."

But it rarely stops here. In all probability the disease will progress. Then there is a marked increase in the quantity of fluid in the chest. The doctors speak of this accumulation of fluid as an "effusion." This may be so great as to crowd the lungs, actually compressing them so they cannot be filled with air.

In one form this effusion consists of a straw-colored fluid. In another form the pleural cavity is filled with pus. Then we have "empyema."

You can well believe that a large accumulation of pus within the chest is a serious matter. There is danger of general blood-poisoning, with rupture of the lung or chest wall.

Pleurisy comes on with chill, fever, cough and pain in the chest. The pain is very severe. It is a cutting, stabbing, sharp, most distressing pain. Every breath taken increases the agony.

The fever runs to 101 or 102 degrees, or more. It continues for a week or ten days. Difficult breathing and hard dry cough are always present.

In a favorable case the fluid is gradually absorbed. The fever declines and after five or six weeks recovery is quite complete.

Rest in bed, strapping the chest with broad strips of adhesive plaster to lessen the movement, in breathing, and the giving of appropriate medicines, will hasten recovery. If the effusion is extensive, it may be necessary to puncture the chest wall to drain away the fluid. This is the simple story of a most uncomfortable but, fortunately, not particularly serious disease. It is necessary in every case, however, to guard the health for some time after recovery from the acute symptoms.

Answers to Health Queries
X. Z. Q.—I am inclined to be stout but my legs are not developed—would rubbing them with cocoa butter be of any benefit?

A.—Possibly. Exercise would be most helpful—running, brisk walking, dancing, jumping, skating, swimming—should all bring about improvement.

M. G. Q.—What treatment is advised for hay fever? Are there any reactions in the east where this trouble is minimized?

A.—Careful examination of the nasal passage will disclose whether or not there is an obstruction or catarrhal condition causing the symptoms. Serum treatment should be helpful if the trouble is merely due to irritation, caused by some flower or weed. Seasoners is perhaps best—any locality where there is an absence of flowers and grasses to any great extent.

The births of children were once taken in England; the birth of a duke at $150 and the birth of a common person, only 50c.

Old State House Galleries Get New Picture Collection

Boston, Jan. 8.—The Old Massachusetts State House, famed far and wide for its many complete collections of antiques, marine displays, and boasting one of the finest collections of the paraphernalia of the bay state's lost industry, whaling, has acquired another set of paintings, depicting famous old ships.

New transformed into a museum, the old State House was once the scene of many historical incidents ante-dating the Revolutionary war. From its balcony, facing State street, were proclaimed the Declaration of Independence, the Repeal of the Stamp Act, and the declaration of peace with England. At one time the building housed the British army in Boston.

Included in the newest acquisition were three views by Robert Salmon, considered one of the greatest marine artists of the early nineteenth century. For many years Salmon kept a studio near Long Wharf.

An Englishman by birth, Salmon painted many splendid scenes around Glasgow and Liverpool, and one of the views of the Glasgow harbor is in the collection. Another canvas shows a shipping view off

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, Jan. 9.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE.

THE planetary combination of forces for this day is most auspicious, fostering ambition, achievement and high aspirations in many directions, practical as well as idealistic. There is encouragement for all sorts of ventures, projects and new agreements, with the assurance of success and financial advantage and also of personal preferment or gratification. It is time for pushing for goals, albeit there may be some aspect of the unwelcome as to change.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of golden opportunity with returns for past achievements and encouragement for fresh initiative and undertakings. There is gain in store as well as position, honors and personal satisfaction. There may be some measure of unrest or dissatisfaction regarding change or journey. A child born on this day may have many excellent traits and aspirations assuring it success and station in life.

Ambition is an idol, on whose wings great minds are carried only to extreme; to be sublimely great or to be nothing.—Southern.

FLU is now Epidemic!

Compared with 1918, this epidemic, so far, is mild; and yet, in spite of vastly increased capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating night and day to meet the emergency demand for more and more Vicks VapoRub. Over 375,000 jars are now being produced daily.

How best to use Vicks VapoRub

1. AS A PREVENTIVE

Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils. Also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors. This helps to ward off germ-infection.

2. IF A COLD STARTS

If possible, go home and go to bed. Take a laxative and a hot lemonade. Apply hot, wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks also acts through the skin like a poultice.

Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

3. AFTER A FLU ATTACK

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. Then, more than ever, colds, attacking the weakened system, may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks.

Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal. Vicks is especially valuable here, because it is applied externally, and so can be used freely, as often as needed, without upsetting delicate digestions, as too much "dosing" is so apt to do.

Liverpool. The third is of Swansea, all done with infinite care to preserve detail.

One of the most interesting of the oils is that by Anton Roux depicting the ship Josephine, of Boston, entering the harbor of Marseilles in 1867 with the city's waterfront as a background. Nearby is a huge scene of a Tunisian Corsair boarding the ship Mercury, of Boston, off Sardinia. The painting is vivid in action.

A picture of the American barque Calypso under sail in the English channel, and a view of the barque Herriet of New York—fording through a heavy sea, are two other very lifelike pictures in the collection. Barque Surymote, Captain Weston commanding, also may be seen off Sable Island in 1830 by moon light.

Among the other choice articles the Old State House is the large wooden ship model of the famous ship Constitution. The hull, built first in 1846 by a Chinese, the rigging was added at a later date.

LAS VEGAS GOES LAND CRAZY AS DAM BOOM HITS

Construction of Dam Will Mean Great Aid To Nevada City

Las Vegas, Nevada, Jan. 8.—Las Vegas, little city of big dreams, has gone "land crazy" as it awaits the actual beginning of construction on the Boulder dam project.

Prices of property have sky-rocketed due to anticipated growth and development, and the center of activity at present is in real estate.

The last two years has seen high pressure realty promoters from Los Angeles and elsewhere appearing here and buying up land.

Many of the tracts thus acquired is "wildcat" land located far out in the desert sands, miles from the city and the dam site.

Purchased very cheaply, much of it has been mapped into subdivisions now called "annexes," "additions" and whatnot, and is being sold to gullible investors in other states. Land has been staked out far into the sand dunes. Salesmen, glib of tongue, enthusiastically proclaim these lots potential gold mines.

In California, the state real estate commissioner put a stop to the sale by unscrupulous promoters of "Boulder dam" lots which because of their location, will probably never be benefited by the project.

These lots, practically worthless for development were sold "off the map" without the purchasers—or even the real estate salesmen for that matter—ever seeing them.

"Why when I saw what I had been selling, I blushed in shame," admitted one salesman, who came here from Oakland, Calif., to be on the ground, looking for new prospects after the state ban had hit his firm's activities there.

But not all land in the Las Vegas area is "wildcat." Thousands of acres are open to development as the town grows right now most of it is highly speculative.

Bring Good Prices
There are reputable real estate men here, who control desert land close in to the city. They are selling undeveloped land without piped water or sewage facilities, at $10 a foot front on the outskirts of Las Vegas.

They tell of similar property that two years ago sold at $50 to $70 an acre now bringing $250 to $400.

Inside the limits of the city, which runs five miles east and west and three miles north and south, and contains 14 square miles, lots are $20 a foot up.

In the business district, one corner lot with a 100 foot frontage on Fremont street, the main thoroughfare, is marked up at $30,000.

"Dirt cheap" says the owner. Real estate operators contend that land values are not inflated at present, and that there has been no appreciable difference in prices in the last few months. They say that present prices are justified by the Boulder dam boom conditions. Some even claim property is too low.

Ed Clark, president of the First State bank in which the Union Pacific railroad is the largest stockholder, tells you otherwise.

Values Too High
"Land values are away too high—they're exorbitant," he declared. "There's nothing here now to warrant such prices as are being asked."

Or course if some one comes along and buys a piece of property for $30,000 and puts up a first class commercial hotel, which is badly needed, and makes money, then that land is worth the price, but values today are not normal in my opinion.

Clark, born and reared in the desert close by has spent his entire life here and has been closely associated with the growth of the town which for the last seven years has sat back and basked in the sun waiting for the dam project to materialize.

Practically every individual property owner in Las Vegas is in the real estate business in a small way. While the rest of the country has indulged in wild stock speculation, the people here are too far removed from the ticker and its tell-tale tape. Their money—life's savings in most instances—has gone into real estate with the hope of "cleaning up" with the boom. Many are described as "land poor" but in Boulder dam they see a great get-rich quick opportunity.

Crane Expedition
In Panama Finds Egg-Hatched Frog

Chicago, Jan. 8.—The Crane Pacific expedition which is now in Balboa, Panama, doing research work for the Field Museum of Natural history, has made an interesting discovery. It reports finding a most unusual type of frog which emerges directly from the egg as a freetlet and not as a tadpole.

When other members of its family are before attaining their maturity. A number of these frogs, as well as specimens of its eggs, were collected in Bermuda. It is one of the tree frogs, and is believed to have originated in Jamaica, according to Karl P. Schmidt, leader of the scientific section of the expedition. Studies made of it indicate that unlike most creatures of its lowly estate in the animal world it's mother frog of this species shows great devotion in guarding her eggs until hatched.

Another usual type of frog was found, Schmidt reports, in the dungeons beneath the throne room of the citadel in the old palace and fortress of Christophe at Cape Haitien, Haiti.

RADIO NEWS AND PROGRAMS

ALEXANDER VON KREISLER

Alexander Von Kreiser, talented Russian conductor, has been selected by William C. Stoess, musical director of the Crosley radio stations, to conduct the weekly concerts of the Crosley Cossacks, broadcast by station WLW every Tuesday at 10 p. m.

His appearance with the Crosley Cossacks at station WLW will be Von Kreiser's American radio debut although while conductor at Riga, his orchestra was broadcast by remote control by a London radio station.

The Crosley Cossacks probably are known to more members of WLW's radio audience than any other of the station's features. The orchestra has been on the air every week for almost four years and has gained a tremendous following. Louis John Johnson, Ida Blackson and other favorite WLW soloists appear with the orchestra.

RADIO FEATURES
Announcements in Spanish and English will be made during the broadcast of a program by WLW, Cincinnati, intended for Cuban and Mexican listeners, from 10 to 11 p. m., Tuesday.

"Amos 'n' Andy," who once appeared on the air as "Sam 'n' Henry," now are being heard from 13 stations, with WMAQ Chicago, as the home station. The various broadcasts are made possible through electrical reproduction from records.

"The Gossips" is the latest addition of the radio features written and presented under the direction of Bradford Browne from WABC, New York. Other radio acts prepared by him are "The Celar Knights," and "Tramp! Tramp! Tramp!"

With the purchase of WABC,

The church services Sunday were not as well attended as usual, owing to so much sickness in the community. Rev. C. H. Phillips subject in the morning was, "A Christian's Attitude Toward Trouble," and in the evening Rev. C. F. Rothel, Rev. I. L. Kinsey and Rev. H. C. Phillips gave short talks and a testimony meeting was held.

The services at the M. E. church were held in the morning and Rev. C. F. Rothel used for his subject, the great invitation, "Come, Tarry, and Go."

The funeral of Abram Maris was held from the Friends church Sunday with Rev. H. C. Phillips in charge, assisted by Rev. John Pennington and Rev. I. L. Kinsey. A quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. French, Mrs. Margaret Chambers and J. G. Gilbert, rendered three selections. The pallbearers were: J. G. Gilbert, Joe Maris, James Maris, Wendell Gilbert, Alton Crumm and Glenn Maurer. Interment was in the Damascus cemetery.

The schools here began Monday with fair attendance. All the teachers were present except Miss Richards, who was absent on account of sickness in the family. Principal C. G. Long received word from Health Commissioner Elder to postpone all public gatherings of the school until next week, consequently the Parent-Teachers meeting which was to be held Thursday evening is postponed indefinitely, also the basketball game which was scheduled for Friday evening is postponed until next week.

Mrs. Ray Long of Willard, is spending some time with her son, Prof. C. G. Long. Evelyn came home with her father from Detroit and entered school here again.

Supt. and Mrs. R. L. Druhot and children, returned Sunday from Delaware and Mowbrystown, where they spent the holidays.

Clark Shreve returned to Marion college, Marion, Ind., Monday.

William Talbott spent Monday in Cleveland.

who can judge this woman?

—married to a brute, in love with a man

SOMETIMES, Laura wondered if she were not in the grip of some terrible nightmare. But the sight of that tall, lean, scanty-haired figure, sitting with head hunched down, his unblinking eyes staring at nothing for hours on end—never failed to drag her back to reality.

Yes, this was her home—this steaming, fever-laden jungle with its brooding loneliness, its dreary desolation. And De Lora, that tattered, whiskey-sodden beast, was her husband. How could she have ever dreamed that she loved him—even in those long-gone days up in the States when she had known him as a scientist and had thought him a man?

The white man's curse

True, she had been little more than a child when she had succumbed to De Lora's love-making, had married him, and had come with him to the jungles of Brazil to help him carry on his scientific researches. But fever—that white man's curse of the tropics—had got into his blood. And from the seriously thoughtful man she had known, she had seen him degenerate into a shiftless, irascible, booze-soaked beast.

Then Townley, young, clean, wholesome, came adventuring up the river. And when his eyes first looked into hers in that desolate wilderness, he could scarcely credit his senses. What he saw was a girl of twenty, with the body of a youthful Venus—glistening hair, creamy skin and star-like eyes—eyes clouded with a silent misery whose meaning, when he saw De Lora, he was quick to guess.

When love calls

For several days, as Townley stayed on, anger, amazement, pity struggled with another and stronger emotion that daily flamed more fiercely in his breast. And when, one day, in an unguarded moment, an answering light illumined her soft, dark eyes, flashing him a wonderful message—

Thus it began—this strange, almost unbelievable drama of the jungle—a drama of maddening love on Townley's part—a tragedy of renunciation, of desperate battling with conscience on the part of Laura.

Whatever you do, don't miss this startling true-life story, "Flower of the Jungle," which appears complete in February True Story Magazine.

MURDER CLEARED WITH CONFESSION

Youth Tells of Killing 61-Year-Old Man In Robbery

Cleveland, Jan. 8.—The murder of Frank McCormick, 61, filling station attendant, who was shot and robbed the night of Dec. 26, had been solved today, police say, by the confession of an 18-year-old boy, giving his name as Lee Akers, formerly of St. Louis.

Akers and a companion came here several weeks ago from St. Louis, they said, after they had been taken into custody last night. Akers admitted that it was he who killed McCormick. The latter resisted as he started to rob him at the filling station, Akers said, and he shot at the attendant once but missed him. McCormick then ran to the rear of the station, Akers pursued him, according to the confession, and shot him through the heart. He then took about $35 from the dead man's pockets, Akers said.

Vancouver to Have Sea Music Festival

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 8.—North America's first comprehensive Sea Music Festival is scheduled for Jan. 23-26 at Vancouver, the latest in the series of folksong festivals which have won for Canada a notable place in the world of music.

The most distinctive music inspired by the sea, from the time of the Vikings down, will be presented at the Vancouver Hotel, concerts arranged by Harold Eustace Key who has won distinction by directing several of the festivals held in the Dominion during the past year.

The Sea Music Festival will offer numerous solo and chorus performances of music that originated in the days of the clipper ship, as well as two groups of songs in stage settings, "The Order of Good Cheer," incorporating old French chansons of Acadia harmonized by Dr. Healey Willan; and "On the Deep Deep Sea," introducing famous deep water chanteys arranged and staged by Capt. Frederick William Wallace.

MRS. J. N. DAVIDSON

Mrs. Phoebe Gardner, this city, and J. N. Davidson, Alliance, were united in marriage at 8 p. m. Monday at the home of the bride on Tenth st.

Dr. P. H. Gordon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated and the service was beautiful in its simplicity.

Only the immediate family witnessed the nuptials and there were no attendants. The bride wore a tan lace dress over georgette.

The home was prettily decorated in pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Davidson is well known in lodge circles in the city, being active in Quaker City have no. 576, Ladies of the Macabees, its junior court, Macabees Jewel and the Woman's Relief corps. Mr. Davidson is an oil and gas contractor. They will make their home on Tenth st.

Owing to illness in the family, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, were unable to take the motor trip they had planned to Plainfield, N. J., and New York city.

mines and users of Ohio coal by reducing existing intrastate freight rates.

The bill to amend the state corporation code, passed two years ago, was introduced by Rep. Charles H. Jones, Jackson, for the purpose of curing certain defects in the code.

Highway Police

Rep. O. S. Creighton, Washington county, introduced the bill providing for a state highway police force of from 100 to 200 persons empowered to enforce traffic and all other laws. Members of the Ohio state grange and other farm organizations are said to have endorsed this measure. It provides for a state superintendent of police to be selected by a board comprising the state highway director, the assistant general attorney, general and the secretary of state. The appointment would be subject to the approval of the governor.

No reference to violation of the prohibition laws is contained in the bill, offered by Rep. Virgil E. Cramer, Toledo, proposing that persons convicted three times of the same felony shall be given the maximum sentence provided by law and, upon the fourth conviction, shall be sentenced to life imprisonment.

Rep. Hubert S. Marshall, Cincinnati, introduced the bill which would restore the old two-cent gasoline tax by repealing the Sullivan act, passed two years ago, which increased the tax to three cents. A bill, by Rep. Tom W. Jones, Middleport, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, provides for appointment by the governor of a committee of five World war veterans to select, erect and dedicate a memorial on the statehouse campus.

Bitter Fight
A bitter floor fight marked the introduction of a resolution in the senate providing for the appointment of Richard Dye, orphan boy from the Soldiers' and Sailors' home at Xenia, as a page in the senate. The Xenia home has always had a representative as a page, and it was through oversight by the committee on patronage that an Xenia boy was not included. Senator E. H. Hughes of the 15th and 16th districts introduced the resolution and it was opposed by Senator C. L. Shafer, of Van Wert.

The resolution was finally passed by a majority of 26 to three. Senator N. P. Johnson of Youngstown, introduced the inspection committee resolution. He charged that the building was a "fire-trap." The committee would consist of three members of the senate and three members of the house.

Sen. G. H. Bender, Cleveland, introduced a resolution to provide for a weekly list of lobbyists and the corporations or associations they represent, and Senator D. B. Johnson, Fulton county, introduced a resolution for amendment of the Ohio constitution to provide trial by jury on information and indictment filed by the prosecutor instead of requiring a grand jury indictment.

AGREEMENT SEEN IN KELLOGG WAR

Pact Will Be Ratified In Indication In Nation's Capital

Washington, Jan. 8.—Invoking arbitration as a substitute for their usual parliamentary warfare, administration leaders and the irreconcilables appeared today to have reached an agreement in the senate for immediate and unconditional ratification of the Kellogg-Briand anti-war treaty.

The two warring factions took a hint from the treaty itself and decided to arbitrate their differences. The outcome was an agreement to have a report filed with the senate from the foreign relations committee, setting forth the American terms of adherence. This report will embody the very terms which the irreconcilables fought to have approved in their "resolution of explanation."

Thus, a fight, which started as a small edition of the old league of nations contest, seemed to have ended amicably. The irreconcilables were still insisting that the foreign relations committee's report be sent to all signatory nations and there were indications this request would meet the administration's approval.

The "explanatory" report was drafted by Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, who will submit it to his committee for approval. It will reveal to the world America's views toward the effect of the treaty on American institutions. These terms of adherence will include a declaration that by ratifying the treaty, the United States does not involve itself in any other treaty.

lators he will submit to them soon a proposed state budget for all departments of government, a statement of the balance in the state treasury and an estimate of anticipated revenues.

Congratulations

"I congratulate you upon your opportunity to serve the state and hope you will cooperate harmoniously with the new chief executive," Donahey's message read. "During the period of your deliberations, the legislative and executive branches of government should labor shoulder to shoulder with an eye single to the high purpose of advancing in every consistent way the welfare, peace and safety of the people of Ohio."

"No public utility company should be permitted to obstruct the collection of an increased rate, or charge, except upon approval of the public utilities commission," said Donahey, recommending amendment of the Pence act.

"At the present time, the commission may, upon the filing of a schedule which provides for an increase in rates, suspend the same, but not for a longer period than 120 days from the time when such schedule was filed," the governor continued. "If hearings thereon are not concluded within the period of suspension the said rates automatically become effective at the end of said period of suspension and the public utility, filing with the commission a bond, or other security to the satisfaction of the commission, securing and guaranteeing the repayment, with interest of such increased rates as may be found to be unreasonable and excessive, may, at once, enforce the proposed rate."

Law Objectionable
"While the law, as at present constituted, is objectionable, since it is manifestly unfair to the public, the law should not be so changed as to create a situation which would be, under emergency circumstances, unfair to companies which furnish public service," Donahey said.

"The public utilities commission should be granted authority, after preliminary hearing, to determine whether there is any probability of confiscation under existing rates and if, in the judgment of that body, there appears no immediate occasion for an advance in rates, as proposed, the existing rates should be collected until final disposition can be made of the case, should the commission deem increases immediately necessary, collections should be made under bond as at present provided."

"The consolidation of cases affecting many cities and communities situated in widely different parts of the state should be forbidden by law even though the properties involved possess common ownership. Such procedure only serves to bog issues and make intricate comparatively simple matters without expediting disposition in the point of time."

Fire Drives Many Into Streets; 1 Hurt
Mr. Vernon O. Jan. 8.—A crippled peddler was probably injured fatally, 29 persons were forced to flee to the streets in night attire, and four places of business were burned to the ground when fire of undetermined origin swept a downtown block here early today.

Oliver Fry, a peddler, jumped from a second story window when he is thought to have become panic-stricken when his escape was cut off by smoke and flames. He landed on his head, was knocked unconscious and likely will die.

Congressman Speaks
Wooster, Jan. 8.—United States Congressman Lewis Ludlow will speak here today at the 73rd annual Jackson day celebration to be held by Wayne county Democrats. Approximately 300 members of the Democratic organization will attend the meeting.

Candidates for athletic games in old Greece were dieted on new cheese, dried figs and boiled grain with warm water and no meat.

MAKES CHARGES AGAINST "PRINCE"

Mrs. Wilhelmina Hilday, charging that Joveddah De Rajah, known in his cult as "Prince Joveddah, son of the Maharajah of Thibet" defrauded her of $1,500 and is the father of her four-month-old baby. The case is being tried in Chicago.

Rep. Walter Newton, of Minnesota, who directed the Republican speakers bureau from the Chicago campaign headquarters, was another with whom Hoover sought to discuss the legislative outlook. Other callers from the house were representatives Robinson, of Kentucky and Free of California.

Hoover began his second day of conferences with a firm grasp of political events since his departure immediately after election for his history-making good-will tour of Latin-America. In addition to meetings with a dozen leaders of the house and senate yesterday, he filled in the details of the political picture through a long tirade that last night with Vice-President-elect Curtis, the Republican leader of the senate. Curtis was a dinner guest at Hoover's S street home and remained long afterward in conference with his host.

Shades Of Nimrod Beckon Coolidge

Washington, Jan. 8.—The fever has taken a firm hold on President Coolidge.

Not satisfied with his experiences in Virginia and Georgia, the president has secured a Maryland hunting license and during the next week will make several sorties into nearby Maryland counties after quail.

His companions will be Col. Edward Starling of the secret service, and Col. Osmun Latrobe his military aide. Starling is now looking up favorable locales for the presidential shooting.

INVESTORS LOOK FOR NEW STOCK TO LEAD MART

Motors, Chains, Aviation and Others Held Sway In '28

PUBLIC UTILITIES NEED WATCHING

Electrification Seen As Rail Stock Booster By Many

New York, Jan. 8.—What group of stocks is best suited to lead the upward movement in the market in 1929?

The motor shares had their day in 1927 and 1928; the chain store and mercantile stocks, with the high-priced airplane stocks, skidded close to the clouds last year, the copper and oil breaking into the headlines in the final quarter of the year. Wherein lies the best opportunity for safe investment and conservative profit in 1929?

"The public utility stocks will take the lead in the upward movement this year," said Herbert E. Smithers, partner and head of the stock sales department of Eastman, Dillon and company, to International News Service today. Smithers bases his forecast upon the enormous expansion in public utility enterprises that will naturally follow the electrification of the railroads and other consumers of power; the expanding use of electric light in American homes; and the harnessing up of big natural developments like waterfalls, etc. To supply cheaper power to the prominent lighting and power companies in the centers of population.

Unlike the railroads, which are still fighting for the right to earn a fair return upon their investments, the public utility companies have been assured by the highest court in the land an equitable income on their actual investment, as well as a reasonable return for enlargement of their facilities and the replacement of worn-out machinery," said Smithers. "This reason has declared the utility companies were in a position to maintain a proper balance between stocks and bonds in their capital structures."

"The enormous growth of American industrial enterprise in recent years has broadened the market for the power as supplied by the utility companies," said Smithers. "Bankers, moved interests and industrial heads are looking with greater favor upon the well-developed utility concerns, most of which need only capital to render them capable of supplying large and large quantities of hydro and electric power. It is not necessary to develop new agencies for the purpose, since most of the well known power companies are in a position to add directly to their producing facilities through the addition of new units of expansion of their plants."

"Customer ownership has become such an important factor in public utility service that there is a growing tendency to elect the power, water and lighting companies for the benefit of consumers and stockholders."

U. S. Film Bandits Made More Gentle By French Censors

Paris, Jan. 7.—Motion picture censors are out to make the world believe that Chicago bandits and French legislators are not as bellicose as newspaper reports depict them.

Official censors snipped off several feet of machine-gunning hold-up men in an American film dealing with night life in the middle west metropolis.

The abridge version of Chicago's "Black and Tan" was exhibited without protest. Censored, it still contained a bank robbery, a murder and a battle between a slayer and the police.

Then the censors looked over a film entitled "Les Nouveaux Messieurs," adapted from the play by Robert de Flers and Francis de Croisset. The film producer, Jacques Feyder, interpolated a fist fight in the chamber of deputies with de Croisset's consent.

Gossip said the fistfight scene was realistic and true to life. The board of censors induced M. Guichard, chief aide to Perfect of Police, to confirm the rumors. He did and the scene of the bawling deputies was promptly censored.

"Why should you take the punch out of my film just because it depicts indecent behavior of the French deputies?" asked M. de Croisset. "Even the president of the Republic is lampooned in theatrical reviews."

"You can poke fun at anyone you please on the stage," replied the censors. "But films are a sort of national propaganda and we must not permit foreign countries to believe that our deputies engage in fist-fights, even if they do."

Alliance—The religious survey of Alliance which was conducted by representatives of the various Protestant churches was completed Monday evening. A force of 400 was engaged in the work which has been in progress for three days. The survey will be used as a basis for a united evangelistic campaign to be conducted early in February.

Sebring—Schools opened here Monday morning. There are still a great many pupils sick and several teachers are ill and there is a possibility that Dr. James Elder, county health commissioner, will order them closed again on account of the spread of influenza.

OPERATION MAY PREVENT CRIME

Ohio Youth Goes Under Care of Surgeons; Await Result

Cleveland, Jan. 8.—Medical Science's attempt to remove criminal traits from the character of Arthur Emery, 15-year-old New Philadelphia (O.) "bad boy" was being watched with interest at City hospital here today.

Under sentence to an Army Training school for stealing letters from the New Philadelphia post office, the boy has undergone an operation for the removal of an abscess from his brain.
Physicians say the abscess may have been responsible for his criminal characteristics. If he recovers, federal authorities may give him another chance and allow him to return home, according to Miss Irene Nungesser, assistant district attorney.

The youth was arrested last September and confessed to taking a number of letters from an open postoffice box and cashing a check from one of them. His parents revealed that since childhood he has been involved repeatedly in burglaries and petty crimes.
While awaiting in the county jail here for transfer to the Army Training camp to which he was sentenced, Emery complained of violent headaches. An X-ray picture disclosed the abscess on his brain.

Obituary

MRS. OSCAR COURTNEY
Mrs. Laura Stanley Courtney, 70 wife of Oscar Courtney, of Beloit, died at 6:15 p. m. Monday at the Central Clinic hospital, this city, where she was brought Saturday evening. She had Bright's disease and had been in ill health the last year.

Mrs. Courtney had practically spent her life in Beloit. She was a member of the Friends church, Beloit, and active in its interests.
Surviving are her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Lee Neubrick, Detroit, and Mrs. P. C. French, formerly of Salem; one sister, Mrs. Charles Adams, Brookings, S. D. Two sons preceded her in death.
Funeral service at 11 a. m. Friday at the Friends church, Beloit, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Will Crumrine; interment in Grandview cemetery, Sebring.

But his most optimistic guess was that it couldn't come before five years. Now, a year and a half later, his dream is actually on the point of realization—in a luxuriously appointed monster of the sky, fitted out with every comfort of an ocean liner.

ELIZABETH GALBREATH
Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Galbreath, widow of Jason Galbreath, Monday afternoon at the home of her son, Marion, at Crafton, Pa.

Elizabeth, Mercer Galbreath, daughter of Daniel and Eliza Mercer, was born Nov. 2, 1854. On June 10, 1880, she and Mr. Galbreath were united in marriage. Four children were born to them. Her husband and two children preceded her in death.

Surviving are two sons, Marion D., at whose home she died, and Jesse F. Galbreath, North Georgetown, and six grandchildren. She was the last of her immediate family.
She was a member of the Lutheran church, North Georgetown, and the funeral will be held at that church at 1 p. m. Wednesday; interment in North Georgetown cemetery.

FRANK PASCO
Frank Pasco, 30, of 87 West Pershing ave., died of pneumonia at 12:40 a. m. Tuesday at Salem City hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Pasco, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pasco, had spent his life here and was graduated from the grade school. He was employed by the city.

He is survived by his parents and three brothers and sisters: Mrs. Frank Smith, Akron; Anthony Pasco, Damascus; Joseph, James, Jean, Mary Jane, Virginia, Robert and June, at home.

The body was removed to the Finerman & Co. funeral home, East High st., and will remain there until the funeral.

Service at 9 a. m. Thursday at St. Paul's Catholic church, McKinley ave., in charge of the pastor, Rev. Maurice Casey.

JOSEPH P. BINNS
Joseph P. Binns, 82, died at 6:30 p. m. Monday at the home of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Woolman, Winona. Death was caused by a complication of diseases.

Mr. Binns had spent practically all his life in Harrisville, Harrison county, O., having lived with his daughter only two years. He was a member of the Wilbur branch of the society of Friends.

Surviving are two sons, Edward of Philadelphia and Arthur of Cleveland; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Woolman at whose home he died; and 21 grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Friends church in Harrisville. Friends may call at the Woolman home in Winona from 7 until 9 p. m. Tuesday.

Last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall.

Miss Ruth Weikart and Catherine Lederer returned home on Saturday evening after spending a week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Weikart at Detroit.

Mrs. Jean Willson is visiting in the home of her brother, Wm. Dalrymple and family at Youngstown.

Miss Helen McNeal returned home on Saturday after spending the holidays in the homes of Carl Varner and Ed Ready at Cleveland.

Miss Cora Getz of Youngstown was a Sunday visitor in the home of her father, Henry Getz.

Dream of Ocean Fliers About to Come True With the R-100

By TOM EDWARDS

LONDON (HIN)—When "Slim" Lindbergh gambled his life on one motor and his knack of nursing a plane through the air to get him safely over the Atlantic to Paris he believed that his flight might point the way to the ultimate linking of the New and Old Worlds by regular air lines.

But his most optimistic guess was that it couldn't come before five years. Now, a year and a half later, his dream is actually on the point of realization—in a luxuriously appointed monster of the sky, fitted out with every comfort of an ocean liner.

COLD WAVE TO BREAK, REPORT
Weatherman Promises Today Will End Frigid Temperature

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Relief from Chicago's record cold wave will come today, according to the local forecast bureau. From an unofficial mix of five degrees under zero, reached at 2 o'clock this morning, the mercury was expected to rise to 25 above by late afternoon.

The death toll in Chicago as a direct result of the present sub zero wave reached four today when the body of an unidentified man was found in a doorway, where he had apparently sought shelter from the cold.

Police stations were besieged all through the night by unemployed and homeless men seeking refuge from the biting winds. Hundreds were given blankets and coats in the lockups while other hundreds were accommodated at Salvation Army huts and improvised refuge stations.

Firemen were kept going at high speed all night as a result of overheated stoves and furnaces setting fire to homes. The icy condition of the streets and sidewalks were a constant menace to motorists and pedestrians. Traffic accidents multiplied.

Conditions west of Chicago were reported clearing today. Trains were maintaining better schedules, although traffic conditions along the highways were reported about the same. Heavy snows which preceded the drop in temperature have lain unmelted, holding many stalled automobiles in their frigid embrace.

Police Start Search For Death Machine

Toledo, Jan. 8.—Police are searching for a hit-skip driver who, early today, ran down and killed Alexander Hoffman, 46, employee of the Lucas county tax commission.

Police received a call shortly after midnight that a man was lying in the street in the business section of Toledo. When found by police, the man was dead, and it was discovered that almost every bone in his body was broken.

Hoffman was unmarried, and is survived only by a brother, Bennie Hoffman of Columbus, formerly circulation manager of the Toledo News-Bea, and now with the Columbus Citizen.

Dear Friends:—
Here's a story I got over the telephone the other day.

A lady who lives up in the north end of town told me about her husband.

It seems he dressed up the other night in his best suit and started out the front door. But the water had been dripping on the front steps, and had frozen and—I guess you know the rest.

Anyway, we cleaned that man's suit, and, aside from a weak place on the front step and maybe a few black and blue spots, you wouldn't know anything had happened.

It may pay you to remember that our number is 557.

FORMAL WORD OF GOVERNOR'S ELECTION GIVEN

Braden Makes Address
At Joint Session
In Capital

Columbus, Jan. 8.—Election of Myers Y. Cooper, as governor of Ohio, and other constitutional state officers at the November election was officially announced here today by Lieut. Gov. George C. Braden, at a joint session of the senate and house.

Presiding over a joint meeting of the legislators in the house chamber, starting at 11 a. m., Braden, in compliance with statutory requirements, canvassed the November election returns from the 88 counties of the Buckeye state and officially announced the election of Cooper for governor, John T. Brown, Champaign county, for lieutenant-governor; Gilbert Bettman, Cincinnati, for attorney general and the re-election of Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, Blanchester; State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy, Columbus and State Treasurer Bert B. Buckley, Dayton.

All these officers are to receive the oath of office next Monday and enter upon their new terms at that time. With the exception of Tracy, all were elected to two-year terms. Tracy will enter upon his third four-year term.

Preliminary to the joint session, the senate and house held separate sessions, the senators convening at 10 a. m. and the house members meeting a half-hour later.

One Bulletin Each Day Will Tell Of Condition of King

London, Jan. 8.—No official bulletin on the condition of King George was to be issued today until this evening.

A Buckingham Palace official informed International News Service at 7:30 o'clock this morning, however, that his majesty's condition was unchanged. Everything was quiet at the palace during the night.

The royal physician's decision to issue only one bulletin today was regarded as indicating their confidence that his majesty would continue to improve. It is believed they will continue to issue only one bulletin a day in the future unless there is a relapse.

Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, her husband, will leave for Goldsborough Hall, their home at Yorkshire, today. They had been staying at Buckingham Palace since the king's illness took a critical turn.

Persons who want anything know that The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

Auto Thief Escapes From U. S. Marshals

Marietta, Jan. 8.—Authorities of three states are searching today for Pat O'Hare, under indictment for auto stealing in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, who escaped from deputy U. S. marshals who were taking him from Columbus to Parkersburg, W. Va., for trial. According to federal authorities, O'Hare was arrested at Akron last November after he had been at Liberty for nearly a year following an escape from police at Youngstown. O'Hare made his escape by successfully working a ruse on the marshals to permit him to leave the car while it was parked on a road surrounded by dense woods. The deputy who accompanied O'Hare from the car left his weapon and O'Hare proved to be the best sprinter.

It is said O'Hare's home is at Caywood, north of Marietta.

Rickard Was To Announce Dempsey's Return To Ring Soon

Tex Took Great Relish In Giving Word Of Jack Fighting A New Battle

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Jan. 8.—The ghostly voice of the dead spoke today and even while all that was mortal of Tex Rickard was being transported to New York for burial, the promoter was giving, by pre-arranged announcement, his valedictory to boxing and to the world. Stripped of all superfluities, his last message to the public was this:

"Jack Dempsey is coming back!"

With the relish that seems almost pathetic now, Rickard prepared his announcement of Dempsey's return for the February issue of the ring and arranged for the distribution of these tidings over a country-wide area ten days in advance of their release, which originally was scheduled for Friday. He was as pleased as a child with a new toy as he made a few revisions in the proofs of the story less than an hour before he was entrained for the holiday that culminated in illness and then death.

He was going to make a pageant of this great event, this promise of his friend and idol to fight again that the heavyweight championship might again become a thing of real significance. He would run a special train to Miami Beach for the official signing, tentatively set for January 27. He would make a fiesta of this ceremony to show that he, of all the men in the world, had this day attained a triumph that would abide through the years. Dempsey was going to fight again!

Will he? He certainly had every intention of so doing until that hushed hour on Sunday morning when the flame of one man's life winked, fluttered weakly and went out. Dempsey will not sign with Rickard now. For Rickard is dead and, with his passing, went one of Dempsey's motivating forces for the gesture he was to make. That force was his loyalty to the promoter.

Another force, of necessity, was money. Dempsey is only human, like the rest of us, and money is our counselor. In the words of one of Rickard's closest friends, Dempsey was "offered money that would make any man come back."

A third force was the type of man he was to meet next summer in a final bout for the heavyweight championship. That man would have qualified in two matches, one involving Sharkey and Stribling at Miami Beach on February 27, and another between Pavlov and Heener later in the season, with the survivors of the two fights to meet in June. It is no state chamber secret that Dempsey feels he has a chance with any of the four mentioned.

Personally, I don't see how Dempsey can fail to fight now, regardless of what he may be saying in his impulsive way. He has promised Rickard that he will fight and I think he may find that such a promise sometimes can be more binding than chains of steel.

"I want to let the readers of the ring" in on a little secret. Jack Dempsey will come back this year."

Can Dempsey ignore the appealing delight with which Rickard was inspired as he sat down to pen those last words on earth?

"One cannot think of Dempsey except in terms of greatness.... he is greater than any fighter now basking in the limelight.... he came within an ace of regaining the championship in Chicago and, although he lost the verdict, there are thousands of fight fans throughout the world who feel that Jack Dempsey is the uncrowned world's heavyweight champion."

Those are a few excerpts from Rickard's eulogy to the man who, to him, was more than king. Here are a few more:

"The return of Dempsey will cause the public to accept the appointment of a successor to Tunney as a genuine champion.... Dempsey will fight only once and that one battle will be for me and it will decide the holder of the crown.... he is the former champion, and as such, he is entitled to more consideration than any of the others."

Catholics Trim Lutheran Team

St. Paul's Catholic church court five won its opening game of the church league at the Memorial building, Monday night, defeating the Trinity Lutherans 25-21.

A last-minute basket by Reasback, St. Paul's forward, was the deciding factor of the game. Reasback flipped in the final basket of the game just seconds previous to the final whistle.

Two games are scheduled in the city league tonight. The Seiberling Tires meet the Junior Saxons in the opener, and the Business College and Prince Club clashes in the second.

Score of last night's game:

Games Carded For Columbiana Court

Columbiana, Jan. 8.—Two games of basketball are on the program for Tuesday evening at the Columbiana gym. The Franklin Boosters meet an Akron League team, while the Franklin Juniors will play a preliminary game with the Columbians. The three teams are sponsored by the Franklin Furniture company. The Boosters, who will appear in their new uniforms, have already won two games this season by large scores, and the team is made up for the most part of familiar figures, including "Boots" Hawkins, Don Barber, Kenneth Dowd and Clarence "Buck" Durkin. James Case is manager.

Lisbon Veteran Is O.S.U. Track Prospect

Columbus, Jan. 8.—Dan Tritten, of Lisbon, veteran shot putter, was one of the many candidates reported to Coach Frank Castleman for Ohio State's 1929 track team, at the first tryout of the winter school term, following the opening of the quarter, last week.

Because of his experience with the Buckeye team in previous seasons, Tritten is expected to carry the Ohio State colors in many meets planned for the team this season. Last year the Lisbon youth was one of the best weight men in the Big Ten conference.

Corn Huskers Set Attendance Record In 1928 Season

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 8.—The 1928 University of Nebraska Cornhuskers hung up a new attendance record for Scarlet and Cream football. The Huskers played to 144,478 paid admissions, according to announcement by John K. Selleck, business manager of athletics at the University of Nebraska. This topped the 1927 figure by more than 30,000 spectators.

A glance at the attendance chart for the past campaign shows the five games at the Nebraska Memorial stadium drew a paid gate of 92,559 people, while the four games away from home attracted 51,937 people through the turnstiles.

The greatest attendance record in the Missouri Valley region was established at Lincoln several years ago when more than 45,000 people witnessed the Nebraska victory over Notre Dame.

During the 1928 campaign Lincoln led the "Big Six" conference with the two largest gates of the season. The crowd of 34,002 which witnessed the Nebraska victory over Missouri was the second largest gathering in the Missouri Valley region as well as nearly double the crowd that witnessed any "Big Six" game during the fall campaign.

The attendance mark of 22,225 people, that inspected the Pitt-Nebraska scoreless tie, was the second largest "Big Six" crowd of the year.

The famous case of Eugene Aram in England lasted from the morning in 1759 to the execution of Aram in 1759.

200-Mile Dog Race To End at Boston; $1,500 In Prizes

Boston, Jan. 8.—With the final plans dependent upon snow conditions, tentative arrangements for the 200-mile New England championship dog sled race to Boston, provide for the start to be made from one of three central points in Northern New England, Berlin or Littleton, N. H., or St. Johnsbury, Vt.

The route of the race, which will finish Saturday January 19, will take the dog teams through Franconia Notch, North Woodstock, Plymouth, Franklin, Concord, Suncook, Manchester, and Nashua in New Hampshire, and Lowell, Conn.

Because of the fact that there are several teams in New England that are classed under recognized types of genuine sled dogs, officials of the Eskimo Dog Club of America have announced the race as an open event.

It is expected that the $1,500 offered in prizes will attract the leading dog sled teams in this section of the country.

MOVIES

"A WOMAN OF AFFAIRS"

John Gilbert and Greta Garbo go garbo-gilberting through one of the greatest screen pictures of film history—"A Woman of Affairs," taken from the noted story "The Green Hat" written by Michael Arlen.

Will Hays, political chaperon to the movies, decreed that the "Green Hat" must not be filmed. Masqueraded as is, he gave his okay, and fans are given the opportunity to view the film, which is almost identical to the play under the original nom de stage. The explanation as to why Hays objected to the film under its original title is indefinite, but the play is far from objectionable even under the name "Green Hat."

The movie opens with a bang. The scenes indicate that the heroine is given to driving a big car at top speed. A load of hay blocks the country road, she takes to the ditch, and water flies as she plunges into a creek. She runs the car madly through the ditch, giving thrills to the audience and shivers to the ditch-diggers.

Several fetching scenes are included. The story has a fine plot of the highest type and is going to Lewis Stone co-starred with the Garbo-Gilbert duo.

"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN"

Wolf, who plays the title role in "Baree, Son of Kazan," the photoplay special at the Royal Theater tonight, is probably the most remarkable dog alive. He is a World War hero and a wearer of the Croix de Guerre. This decoration was pinned to his collar by Marshal Foch himself, that dog being the only one on which a dog was ever personally decorated by a French marshal.

Anita Stewart, the star in the picture, wishes she might have Baree always, so attached to him did she become when the filming of outdoor scenes for "Baree, Son of Kazan," was in progress near Donner Lake, Cal. Wolf took a deep liking to her also and to show his affection acted as her special escort and guardian when the company was trudging through deep snowdrifts in the California mountains. He was more at home in that severe climate than was the star.

When the end of the production work was approaching Miss Stewart took steps which she hoped would make it possible for Wolf to remain with her for a long time to come. She tried to buy the dog actor. What her original offer was has not been made public, but Miss Stewart raised the bids repeatedly until $5,000 was reached. The owner refused to be tempted even by this sum, however, much to the star's disappointment.

"BUSHRANGER"

Picking a man's pocket with the lash of a bullwhip at thirty feet, or binding him hand and foot with the long lash of the Australian weapon—these are among the sensational tricks that Tim McCoy, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's western star, exhibits in his latest picture, "The Bushranger," now playing at the Grand Theater.

In the new play, a vivid romance of the Australian plains, McCoy, with bullwhip and boomerang, rides through an amazing and sensational series of adventures. A pretty love story is woven into the rapid-fire structure of excitement. The story is, incidentally, the first all-Australian romance ever filmed in America.

McCoy plays a bushranger in Australia, escaping from the troops after shouldering another man's blame, and enacting the romance of a sort of latter-day Robin Hood. Marian Douglas, herself an Australian girl and herself heroine of "The Shepherd of the Hills" is the heroine, and the cast includes Russell Simpson, Arthur Lubin, Edwin J. Brady, Rosemary Cooper, Richard R. Neill, Billy Francie, Dale Austin ("Miss New Zealand") and Frank Baker, a brother of the famous Australian sportsman, "Snowy" Baker.

COLUMBIANA

Members of the Komagata club were entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. Roy Cope at her home near Leetonia. Three tables of bridge were in play with Miss Lois Rolter holding high score. Mrs. George Church will be the next hostess in two weeks.

Hattie Bishop circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., will hold installation of officers Tuesday evening in the American Legion hall.

The regular meeting of the Lutheran Brotherhood will be held Tuesday evening at the church. Wick Frye, local funeral director, was taken suddenly ill of pneumonia Saturday afternoon upon his return from conducting a funeral at North Lima, and in a few hours was delirious. He was reportedly slightly improved Sunday evening.

No preaching services were held Sunday at the Lutheran church, owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. C. E. Krumm, who is recovering from an attack of flu.

Mrs. Anna Francis and daughter, Elizabeth, have returned to their home at Wooster, following a visit of a week with friends in Columbiana and relatives in Salem.

W. H. Holman is recovering from an attack of flu at his home on West Salem st.

Mrs. E. L. Mallory and children returned Saturday from Akron, where they visited with relatives for ten days.

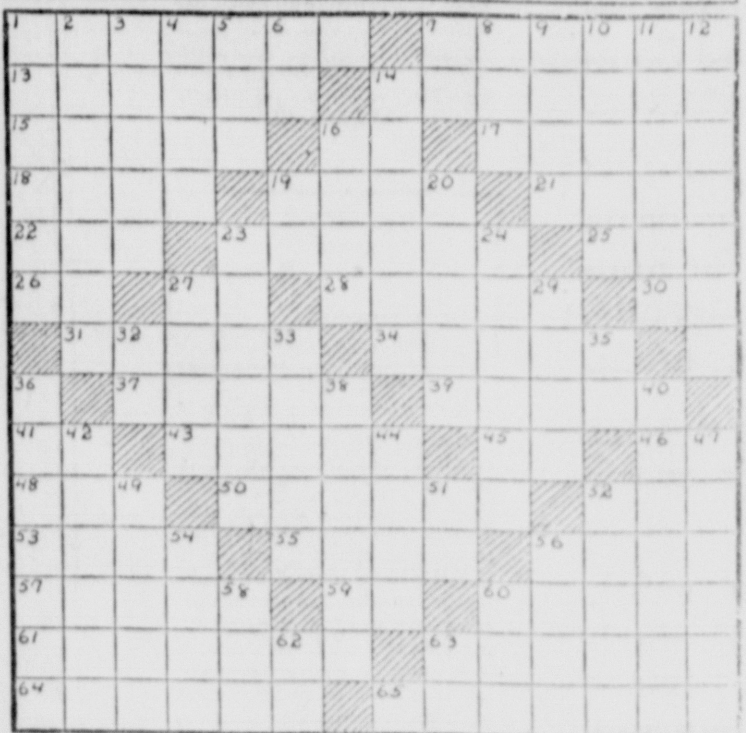

Clarence Ehrer of Kent, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Rohrer and family, West Salem st.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harrold and Clarence Esterly of Leetonia, were local business callers Saturday evening.

Mrs. Emma Weller has returned to Youngstown, after a visit of several days.

There are two cases on record of women who had five children at a birth.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Variety in Vegetables an Aid to Health

Vegetables are variously cooked in most families as a daily addition to the home menu. The more simply they are cooked the better. Badly cooked and water soaked, they are inexcusable and are upsetting to the digestion. All green vegetables, roots and tubers should be firm and crisp when put on to cook. Old vegetables should be soaked in cold water until their crispness returns; new ones will crisp in a few minutes. Head vegetables should be placed in slightly salted water head down to rid them of bugs or worms if any are present. For the best results nearly all vegetables should be plunged into hot water. The exception being green peas, which should be started in cold water and permitted to cook very slowly.

All vegetables that grow above the ground should be cooked rapidly and uncovered; all that grow below the ground should be covered and cooked more slowly. There is always a certain amount of waste in preparing vegetables, but where potatoes and other vegetables must be pared use a sharp vegetable knife and pare as thinly as possible. In preparing vegetables for the table remove all inedible portions and serve as attractively as possible, and hot.

Puree of Cabbage and Potatoes

Peel six potatoes and boil 30 minutes, drain and mash. Add to the potatoes a pint of boiled and finely minced cabbage, beat in two heaping tablespoonsful of butter, salt, pepper and a half pint of hot milk. Cook gently for five minutes to heat through and serve.

Brussels Sprouts

Remove outer leaves and trim the ends of the sprouts, wash then add them to two quarts of boiling water and a teaspoonful of salt and boil rapidly for 20 minutes. Drain carefully, then add a tablespoonful of butter, salt and pepper, and a few drops of lemon juice. Serve hot. If liked, they may be creamed, or a little minced broiled bacon may be added to a baked dressing, to which also the juice of an onion may be added.

Celeriac, Knob Celery

Pare the celeriac and cut in thin slices, then boil until tender, drain and serve in cream sauce. Or, after adding the cream sauce and seasoning of butter, pepper, salt and a little sugar, put into a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with grated cheese and brown lightly in the oven before serving.

Mashed Turnips

Pare and slice a large yellow turnip in quarter-inch slices and plunge into boiling water; cook steadily for 20 minutes, then add two pared potatoes; when the turnip is very tender the potatoes will be done; drain, mash together, add pepper, salt, three level tablespoonsful of sugar, two heaping table-spoonsful of butter, and mix well with a fork. Serve hot with the roast. If liked, two table-spoonsful of heavy cream may be added.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Jan. 8. — Costumes for southern wear are casting before them their shadows of what will very likely be worn next spring and summer.

Thin coats worn over printed silk frocks, are shown occasionally flared in front or with groups of pleats placed very low. There are also blue and black tulle for two or three full, then add a table-spoonsful of butter, salt and pepper, and a few drops of lemon juice. Serve hot. If liked, they may be creamed, or a little minced broiled bacon may be added to a baked dressing, to which also the juice of an onion may be added.

A charming ensemble for the south consists of a frock of almond green in light woolen material, made quite simply with a slightly bloused bodice with a bow of black crepe ribbon at the neck and waist and a short sleeveless jacket.

A bit dressier is one of the brick red crepe de Chine, the skirt in plain color and the bodice and one diagonal half of the bodice (including the sleeve) of the same shade with huge white polka-dots and a sleeveless jacket of dotted material.

For cool days in the sunny South (and there are many of them), comes a long black coat with narrow band of white fur around the neck and sleeves and at the top of the semi-circular pockets worn over a frock of black crepe de chine with the same fur trimming.

Another for the same purpose is a strictly tailored frock of checked tweed with brown leather belt and pipings of brown. Smart little tailored frocks in tweed and other light materials can be worn without a wrap in warm resorts.

A smart tennis frock for the south comes in man's silk shirting, with tiny pin stripe, and faintly ridged. A sleeveless pull-over in fine jersey is cut low in the front with two small revers, so that a large expanse of the dress is to be seen. It has a smart belt of silk webbing striped to match the jersey.

A costume in soft raspberry-colored wool is worn with a plain white jersey jumper, with a belt of the same material and bow of the same thrust through the front.

Augusta, Me.—Calling for closer and more active association between the University of Maine and the industries and utilities of the state, Clarence S. Stetson, chairman of the Maine Development commission, pointed out that the mutual benefits which would result from this action and urged the university influence directly to various centers by lecture courses and extension classes for employes of the industries and utilities.

Atlanta—The college co-ed may or may not vamp her high averages, but the fact remains that in Oglethorpe university here, she has proved her mental superiority to the male student.

"I know an easy way to keep from getting fat..... Light a Lucky instead of eating sweets."

Nazimova
Famous Stage Star

THE modern way to diet! Light a Lucky when fattening sweets tempt you. That's what thousands of lovely women are doing—successfully. The delicately toasted flavor of Luckies makes them a delightful alternative for fattening sweets. Toasting does it. Toasting removes the impurities and improves the flavor of the finest tobacco. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Men who pride themselves on keeping fit discovered this long ago. They know that Luckies steady their nerves and do not impair their physical condition—many prominent athletes have testified to this fact. They discovered, too, that Luckies don't irritate the throat—a fact subscribed to by 20,679 physicians.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY
INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

FLOOD VICTIMS ORGANIZE FOR FUTURE SAFETY

Those Living In Missouri Area Prepare For High Waters

Kansas City, Jan. 8.—Flood victims of the Missouri Valley territory for the past few years, residents of the devastated sections are forming organizations for the purpose of eliminating the annual losses from that cause.

For the most part, these flood-prevention groups are taking the form of country organizations whose immediate efforts will be to eliminate the menace in their immediate vicinity.

Straightening Channels
Straightening of the river channels, building of levees and dredging will be the three principal forms of improvement.

With the invasion of this territory by federal engineers who have been making surveys along the levee rivers, the county groups are undertaking the work of federal aid in the near future.

Under the work of flood prevention well under way in this section, destruction of Mississippi river lands would be greatly obliterated in as much as the winding channels cause a storing of water to be later loosened into the main stream.

Annual Losses
The annual flood loss in the Missouri valley now runs into many millions of dollars. Repairs of a like amount would prevent the loss for all time.

Residents of the Arkansas, Neosho, and Smoky Hill river sections are taking the lead in the flood prevention work.

LEETONIA

In St. Paul's Lutheran church Sunday the following held a record of perfect attendance at Sunday school, some for one year and a number much longer:

First year pins were awarded to Howard Bellhart, Jack Bellhart, Mattie Brinker, Jane Crothers, Eleanor Demuth, Betty Fredericks, John Haverstadt, Betty Heil, Walter Hill, Ruth Midland, Donald Oehle and Katherine Sempke.

Second year awards were made to Ada Ashley, Carol Atkinson, Dorothy Cope, Charles Cope, Thomas Crothers, Helen Schaeffer, Donald Sotherland, Martha Lee Weikart, Franklin Spice, Glenn Schaeffer and Mrs. Elma Worman.

Third year awards were made to Paul Atkinson, Catherine Cope, Ruth Fleming, Mary Kathryn Johnson, Glen Kyser, Eleanor Marshall, Jack Mossman, Margaret Redfoot, William Wagenhouser, June Weikart.

Fourth year awards were made to Alvin Brinker, Alice Fleming, Harold Gray, Thomas Gray, Harry Johnson, George Metz and Billy Hildebrand.

Both Donald and June Conkey, brother and sister were awarded the fifth year pins.

Sixth year awards were given to Margaret Brillhart, Kenneth Metz, Debra Smith and Ralph Wagenhouser.

Seventh year pins were awarded to Rheva Miller and Helen Wagenhouser.

The eighth year pin was received by Harry Ginter, and Miss Marie Cope received the ninth year pin.

El Stouffer has purchased six acres of land, with dwelling house and other buildings on the Canfield-Greenford rd. He with his family will move to their new home about March 1, where Mr. Stouffer will engage in raising garden and other plants for sale.

Mr. Stouffer expects to sell his Leetonia home. Friends of the family are sorry to learn of their intention of leaving town.

Miss Helen Schaeffer returned to her home here Saturday evening, following a ten days' visit in Cleveland, with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark.

Mrs. James McCue and son Leetonia, were Youngstown visitors on Saturday.

Mrs. Carl Crawford of Youngstown, was in Leetonia called Saturday forenoon. She was going to Salem to visit her parents.

Dorothy and Frances May Shonts, returned to their home in Massillon Sunday afternoon following a visit of a few days here at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Grover.

Miss Helen Greiner and brother Kenneth, were callers in Columbiana, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Shonts were Salem visitors Sunday afternoon.

Miss May Ashley left Sunday afternoon to resume her studies at the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Atleena, Ga.—Memory of Joel Chandler Harris, creator of "Uncle Remus" will be perpetuated by the erection of a memorial to the Georgian in the South's "Westminster Abbey" at Fletcher, N. C., according to announcement here.

Cop Slapper Fined

Mrs. May Abell (above), Washington, D. C. matron, slapped Policeman K. O. Spiess for alleged rough treatment of her mother at a fire, and was fined $10 in court for her temper. Spiess was restraining spectators from getting too close to blaze when the incident happened.

KONJOLA ENDS 8 YEARS SEARCH FOR REAL REMEDY

Stomach and Kidney Troubles Had Long Defied Every Other Medicine and Treatment Tried

MR. PETER KANOS

"The first and only medicine that touched my case and I tried everything for years!" So exclaim many who find in Konjola the new medicine, the answer to the external question of those who suffer: "What can I find to make me well again?"

Konjola is a medicine of results, success, triumph. It conquers disease, simply by going to the source of the trouble and removing the causes. Take the case of Mr. Peter Kanos, 1732 East Thirty-Fourth Street, Lorain, Ohio, one of the thousands of proofs of this.

"For eight painful years I sought for something to relieve my stomach and kidney troubles. Nothing but failure resulted. Indigestion, terrible headaches, dizzy spells, kidney pains and sleepless nights were among my afflictions. Constipation was another. I was worn out and tired out, discouraged over my faithful efforts to find relief. The wonderful things I read about Konjola's achievements induced me to give this amazing medicine a trial. I took just four bottles and every last one of my troubles vanished. I eat anything I want, sleep soundly all thru the night, and my weight, strength and vitality is almost back to normal. I wish I could broadcast my experience with Konjola so that everyone who suffers can hear and profit by it."

Konjola is sold in Salem, O., at J. L. Lease drug stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Acid Stomach
Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier-mixed acid: Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875. Adv.

HOME PORT FOR 4-DAY LINE WILL SOON BE NAMED

Swift Vessels Will Span
Atlantic On Fast
Schedules

Providence, R. I., Jan. 8.—The uncertainty regarding the home port of the proposed Four-Day Atlantic Steamship company, which plans to construct four huge passenger and freight vessels with the financial assistance of the United States Shipping board, will be cleared up within a month, it was indicated here.

For some time it was believed that Providence, or some other port in the Narragansett Bay, would be selected as the terminal, but it was later indicated that New London, Conn., had been chosen.

Cost $100,000,000
The project which will ultimately cost approximately $100,000,000 was first launched by the American Brown-Boveri company, but was later taken up by Laurence B. Wilder.

Although Providence possesses a good harbor and river facilities, the length of time required for a vessel to reach the open sea because of the length of the Narragansett river, was believed to be the factor that caused the decision against Providence.

A vessel can leave the State pier in New London and get out past Block Island two hours before the same vessel could leave Providence and get out into open water. This two hours is very valuable and would mean a vast difference in the running time of all four vessels in the space of a year.

At New London, the huge 1000 foot pier is being made ready to start operations. Plans were being made for bunkers and dining rooms to accommodate hundreds of laborers.

The pier will be able to dock two of the liners, each of which will be 1200 feet in length. Other dockage will be provided, and it will be possible to take care of all four liners should they be in New London, at one time, it was said.

It was also stated that one million dollars had been set aside for the erection of a huge dry dock that would accommodate a ship 1500 feet in length.

Will Not Abandon Monterey Presidio

Monterey, Cal., Jan. 8.—Famous since the days of the pious padres and the fiery Spanish dons, through the hectic gold rush days and up to the present, the old Presidio of Monterey is not yet ready to be abandoned.

Contrary to recent press dispatches and to the delight of followers of early western history, Major General John L. Hines, commander of the Ninth corps area, has denied the old post will be abandoned.

Year was felt in several quarters that the noted old military institution, once an impregnable stronghold, would be allowed to crumble and end in decayed oblivion.

Today a regiment of cavalry and a battalion of field artillery keep up the martial traditions of the Presidio. Its soldiers pass in review under the shadow of a cross memorializing Father Junipero Serra. The cross itself marks the spot where Viscaino planted the Spanish flag in 1682 and where the first mission bells of California were tolled.

BELOIT

Funeral services for Tom Woolman were held at the Beloit Friends church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in charge of Rev. J. W. Crumrine, pastor of Beloit church, assisted by Rev. L. E. Carr, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Soborn. Music was rendered by a mixed quartet. The pallbearers were six engineers who through years of association with Mr. Woolman, learned to love him. Interment was in Damascus cemetery.

Miss Clara Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Ford, missionaries in Africa, spoke at the Beloit Friends church Sunday morning, taking her text from St. John 5:24. Miss Gertrude Cook sang two selections. The service was very impressive. In the evening Miss Ford, the reader and artist, and Miss Cook the soloist and pianist, gave an illustrated song and scripture reading service as follows: Opening devotion, reading "The Lost Word"; solo, "Have You Forgotten God"; reading "The Eternal God, Our Redeemer"; chalk illustration with solo accompaniment, "The Lamb of God"; interlude, "The Suffering Saviour"; chalk illustration and accompaniment, "The Old Wayide Cross"; interlude, "The New Jerusalem"; chalk talk with accompaniment, "The Forty Wives of Heaven"; Misses Ford and Cook are from the Cleveland Bible institute.

Miss Mary Thompson returned to Cleveland Monday morning, where she will continue her studies at the Bible institute.

Miss Marion Cullen of New Castle, visited over the week end with Mrs. Cora Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Leyman of Salem, were guests over the week end at the William Dixon home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Tietzel and son Billy, visited Mr. Israel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Israel at Youngstown, Sunday.

Mrs. Lydia Houck who has been ill, is improved.

Miss Mabel Holloway who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Barber has returned to her home in Pittsburgh.

Tunnel Through Cascades A Miracle of Science

Above, a painting by Walter L. Greene, showing one of the new electric trains about to enter the Cascades tunnel, and below, drillers at work inside the bore. The map illustrates the old and new routes through the range.

Seattle, Wash. Jan. 8.—Drilled as if by a giant's auger, the Great Northern railway's eight-mile bore through the Cascade mountains east of here will be formally opened for train operation on Jan. 12.

Simultaneously the road's entire mountain division—a stretch of steel ribbon totaling more than 75 miles—will be metamorphosed from a steam unit into one operated solely by electricity.

This is science victorious in one of the most pretentious engineering projects on the American continent. The tunnel alone cost roughly $14,000,000, but electrification and other improvements brought the total to the staggering figure of $25,000,000.

The new Cascade tunnel lifts the record in the United States from the Moffatt bore in Colorado, 6.11 miles long, and is exceeded by only four other tunnels—the Simpson, St. Gothard, Loetschberg and Mount Cenis tunnels in the Alps.

The electric locomotive for hauling trains over this 75-mile stretch of mountain roadway are the most powerful of their type. They are all-union, according to engineers of the General Electric company, in that they will utilize the advantages of both alternating and direct current. Another feature is their regenerative braking. On the down-grades the motors act as generators and "regenerate" from 30 to 35 per cent of the power required to move them on the upgrade. This current is fed back through the trolley poles into the power lines, which aids other trains moving along the electrified route.

Opening of America's longest tunnel will be broadcast over the radio with all of the pomp and ceremony of a championship prizefight, while notables from both here and abroad will be aboard the first train to pass beneath the Cascade range.

PEDESTRIANS IN PERIL WHEN MAN LEAPS TO DEATH

Salesman Dies After Fall
Of Nine Stories From Deshler Hotel

Columbus, O., Jan. 8.—The body of H. R. Hertenstein, 42, New York hosiery salesman, who jumped from a ninth floor window of the Deshler hotel here late yesterday afternoon, will be sent to New York for burial, according to funeral arrangements announced today.

Several pedestrians narrowly escaped injury and perhaps death when he crashed to the pavement from the height of 100 feet, crushing his skull and breaking nearly every bone in his body.

According to three "suicide" notes left by the man, his act was prompted by the fear of blindness. It is reported that he had been suffering from an eye disease for more than four years.

The notes left by the man were addressed to W. M. Patterson, of New York, J. E. Newberger and I. M. Stellenheim, both of New York, and "the undertaker." The last note said, "In my trunk in the baggage room there is a black suit. Bury me in that."

Police found his body shoeless and coatless, with a towel wrapped about the head, when they arrived at the suicide scene.

Still Dances

Salem, Mass., Jan. 8.—Although the ghastly figure of the electric chair casts a grim shadow over him, George Taylor, alias Elmer Thompson, known as the "dancing barber," can still buck and wing with the same vigor which earned him his nickname.

At the entertainment given for the amusement of the inmates of the Salem jail, Taylor was termed "the hit of the show" despite the fact that all the other performers, except one were professionals.

SUCCESSFUL METHODS FOR COMBATING FLU AND COLDS

Follow These Rules — Do Not Fool With a Cold —
Use Tried Safe Methods

Look out for colds — even mild colds in the head and throat. Don't let them get down into the chest and lungs.

Don't expose yourself to damp or wet weather.

Don't go out if you are feeling sick. Influenza, grippe, pneumonia or other serious sickness often come from colds.

The Danger
Cold, "Flu" and Pneumonia
Germ multiply by the millions and attack the weak and strong alike.

Watch out for colds, they weaken your resistance. The greatest danger lies in that "simple cold." Kill that cold quickly.

It is of vast importance to clean out the entire intestinal tract, upper and lower bowels regularly. Keep the kidney's well flushed and freshen and strengthen the blood.

Experience of 1918
The experience of the 1918 epidemic showed that one of the best and simplest treatments was to take a steaming hot cupful of Bulgarian Herb Tea.

Why take any chances, why not be prepared to fight off your cold or "flu?"

The right thing to do now is to go to your druggist, get a box of Bulgarian Herb Tea. Kill off your cold. Take it steaming hot twice a week. It will heat up the chilled blood, increase the circulation and rid the bowels and intestines of poisons and germs. Every family will find Bulgarian Herb Tea (purely vegetable) a real blessing to have on hand in this time of need. Keep your system clean all winter.

See your druggist at once. Your health—perhaps your very life—may depend upon taking this simple precaution. Costs but a few cents.

If you have had the flu or a bad cold already, watch out for a recurrence. A cupful of Tea twice a week is your protection against attacks.
